

Voice-Acting Workshop I

Learn the fine art of Voice Acting and commercial Voice Over.

Christina Thurmond, (actress and professional voice talent for over 20 years) is conducting coaching and instructional classes at the premier post production facility, Voices Now. If you have ever considered getting into the voice-over business this class could be your ticket.

- Week 1: Learn how the voice-over business works, what clients want to hear and what will get you the job. Also how to put together a marketing plan for your own business, including how to get representation here as well as other markets by using new technology that will allow you to work virtually anywhere in the world!
- Week 2: See how your mouth & whole body works together to produce sound by using tongue twisters and other voice exercises to improve diction.
- Week 3: “Map Out” scripts with concise and simple notation. Learn how to give clients what they want in the first take with this simple technique. Practice reading announcer, character, and dialogue copy in preparation for recording session.
- Week 4: LIVE RECORDING SESSION – Become familiar with microphone technique and studio protocol by working with a live engineer in the booth! Find your strengths as a working VO Talent under the direction of an actual casting director.
- Week 5: REVIEW and talk about Recording Session and where to go from here.
